14	SIGNIFICANT RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES a) Religious Activities Venerable Thich Nhat Tu is a Vietnamese Buddhist reformer, an author, a poet, a psychological consultant, and an active social activist in Vietnam. He is committed to propagate Buddha’s teachings through education, cultural activities and charitable programs in order to benefit the individuals and the society at large. To propagate Buddhism in this digital era, on 22/2/2000, when still a D.Phil. candidate in India, he founded and designed Buddhism Today website (www.buddhismtoday.com), the first Buddhism website in Vietnam. This page soon became a place to share and communicate Buddhism for all Vietnamese globally.

Since 2002, he has extensively given public Dharma talks to Vietnamese communities, domestically as well as internationally, such as America, Australia and Europe. He is organizer and moderator of A Fortnightly Retreat for about 1500 practitioners at Pho Quang Temple, HCMC.

He is also actively engaged in the inter-religious dialogue and promotion of peace and harmony. He is committed to propagate Buddhist teachings through education, cultural activities and charitable programs in order to benefit the society at large.

b) The Audio Buddhist Tripitaka and Audio Buddhist books

In 2003, he was editor-in-chief and publisher of The Audio Vietnamese Buddhist Tripitaka in MP3 format and Audio Vietnamese Buddhist books. It was the first audio edition of the Buddhist Tripitaka globally, opening the new horizon for all Vietnamese who are interested in Buddhist philosophy and practice.

To help lay followers understand Buddhism thoroughly, he edits and publishes Buddhism Today Series (more than 200 books), and more than 100 CD, VCD, DVD Buddhist music.

c) Propagation of Buddhadhamma

Thich Nhat Tu has been giving more than 2,800 Dhamma talks on various Dharma topics in Vietnamese which can be viewed at www.tusachphathoc.com. He has been to many places in Vietnam, America, Australia and Europe to give Dhamma talks and is seen as a full of potential Vietnamese Buddhist monk.

His teachings practically cover all kinds of topics benefiting all classes of people, from Sangha to lay people, overcoming the barrier of their religions. Apart from Buddhist philosophy and ethics, his dharma topics include love, marriage, art of living, meditation, religious dialogue and Buddhist spiritualism, etc...

On average every month he gives more than 14 new Dhamma talks. The work that he has done perhaps no Vietnamese Sangha member is able to achieve.

d) Charity for the Poor and Jail Inmates

He is an active social activist and charity fundraiser to help the poor, the old, children, homeless and those suffered from natural disasters, etc... He formed Buddhism Today Charity Group in 2000 to sponsor hundreds of eyes operation a year, donating to Social Support Centers, Retirement Houses, Orphanage Houses, Youth Education Centers, and cancer patients in many hospitals in Vietnam.

He has been conducted meditation retreats for thousands of inmates in several Rehabilitation Facilities and Correctional Facilities in South Vietnam, such as Tan Hiep (1200 inmates), Chanh Phu Hoa (1000 inmates), Phu Nghia (400 inmates) and Ba Ria Vung Tau (800 inmates). On February 5 and April 23, 2007, a total of 1850 "long-term" inmates of K.20 Prison, a security jail in Ben Tre Province, and on May 1, 2010 a total of 5500 inmates of Son Phu 4, Thai Nguyen city, under his guidance, have observed vegetarianism and mindfulness practice as a path to inner freedom.

e) The Buddhist Youth Club

He took part in the foundation of The Buddhist Youth Club in 2006. He promoted the youth activities in South Vietnam in 2010 in which there were 4,000 young Buddhists from 24 cities and provinces to participate in the Buddhist Summer Camp in Dai Nam Theme Park, Binh Duong Province.

Nowadays his model of Buddhist Youth Club has been applied by many provincial Buddhist Sanghas to propagate Buddhism and organise retreats for lay followers, as well as giving exam consultation every year.

f) Promotion of the Buddhist Culture

Since 2002, Thich Nhat Tu set up a Buddhist Music Club in Ho Chi Minh city, with the participation of many famous song writers, singers and actors to propagate the Buddhist philosophy and practice for general public.

	He is the editor and publisher of more than 150 CD, VCD, DVD of Buddhist music since 2002. Being a Secretary General of Cultural Department, HCMC Buddhist Sangha (2002-2007) and Chairman of the Cultural Department of HCMC Buddhist Sangha (since 2012), every year he organises many Buddhist cultural performances at Lan Anh theatre and Hoa Binh theatre. On top of that, many Buddhist exhibitions, calligraphy, and arts have been organised by him too. He wrote ‘Follow the Footsteps of the Buddha in India and Nepal,’ a book that brought the inspiration for the VTC1 Television to accompany him to India to make documentary film about Buddhist pilgrimage in India and Nepal.
